- brings Druids together

Dear IGLD Brothers and Sisters

With this first issue of the Newsletter we start the countdown to the 28th IGLD Congress in Ashford, UK in 2020. Although most of you have not heard so much from us since New Zealand, I can assure you that there have been many meetings and tele-communications in the past months. One of the visible results so far is this present Newsletter.

To all of you that don't know me, I was elected Grand President in our latest Congress in March this year. I am a member of the Norwegian Druid Order since 1974 and have been an officer in our National Order since 2003. The main task for me and the other Executives is to prepare a new and simplified Constitution for IGLD which can bring our organization up to date and prepare us for the future. It is an important task, but with the help of all good-willed members across the world I am certain that we will succeed. We intend to take the best from our past, unite the forces again and go brotherly into a prosperous future for IGLD.

I take great pleasure in observing that we have renewed contacts with the US Brothers, and I welcome you in our midst again. You were missed in New Zealand!

In this Newsletter I will once more like to thank our hosts in Nelson, NZ that established the base for a united IGLD. The outcome of the discussions and decisions can only bring us closer together and I feel that we all departed Nelson as better brothers and friends.

The work on a new Constitution is progressing and the working group has already given their first inputs. There will be an executive meeting in Copenhagen, Denmark 29.10.-1.11.2017 where the first proposal should be presented.

Dear IGLD members. Our future is in your hands. We will need to do this make-over together in unity, peace and concord. I thank you for your support and very much look forward to be there with you and working for you.

Ashford

Ashford is a town in the county of Kent, England. It lies on the River Great Stour at the south edge of the North Downs, about 61 miles (98 km) southeast of central London and 15.3 miles (24.6 km) northwest of Folkestone by road. In the 2011 census, it had a population of 74,204. The name comes from the Old English æscet, indicating a ford near a clump of ash trees. It has been a market town since the 13th century, and a regular market continues to be held.

Ashford has been a communications hub and has stood at the centre of five railway lines since the 19th century. The arrival of the railways became a source of employment and contributed to the town's growth. With the opening of the international passenger station it is now a European communications centre, with new lines running between London and the Channel Tunnel (via High Speed 1). The M20 motorway also links Ashford to those two destinations for road traffic.

The town has been marked as a place for expansion since the 1960s and appeared on several Government plans for growth. Changes have included the County Square shopping centre, the redevelopment of the Templar Barracks at Repton Park, and the award winning Ashford Designer Outlet. In the 1970s, a controversial ring road scheme and construction of the multi storey Charter House building destroyed significant parts of the old town, though some areas were spared and preserved.

St Mary's Church in Ashford has been a local landmark since the 13th century, and expanded in the 15th. Today, the church functions in a dual role as a centre for worship and entertainment.

Early developments

There has been evidence of human habitation around Ashford since the Iron Age, with a barrow on what is now Barrow Hill dating back to 1500 BC. Two axes from the Lower Paleolithic period have been found near Ashford. During the construction of the Park Farm estate in the late 1990s, excavation in the area revealed tools from the Upper Palaeolithic and Mesolithic period dating back to the 7th century BC. A number of other Mesolithic tools were discovered during construction of the Channel Tunnel Rail Link through Ashford.

During Roman Britain, iron ore was mined in the Weald and transported to Ashford where two ironworks processed the ore into a workable metal. Archaeological studies have revealed the existence of a Roman town to the north of the current centre, roughly at the junction of Albert Road and Wall Road.

The present town originates from an original settlement established in 893 AD by inhabitants escaping a Danish Viking raid, who were granted land by a Saxon Lord for their resistance. The name comes from the Old English æscet, indicating a ford near a clump of ash trees. At the time of the Domesday Book of 1086 it was still known by its original Saxon name of Essetesford (or Eshetisford, Esselesford, Asshatisforde, Essheford). The manor was owned by Hugh de Montford, Constable of England, and had a church, two mills and a value of 150 shillings (£7.50) at the time. One of the earliest houses in the area still in existence is Lake House at Eastwell Park to the north of the town, which contains the grave of Richard Plantagenet.

Dear Brethren

Fraternal Greetings and good wishes to all from the Officers and Members of IGLD NZ.

Life in the Druidic world of New Zealand has certainly quietened down since the World Congress in Nelson last March. The success of this Congress was only possible through the willingness of those members present to communicate and address the issues facing IGLD. (and have a lot of fun along the way) We have every confidence in the new Executive, and look forward a more modern and effective IGLD.

IGLD NZ has had two Meetings since March, one in early June, and the last one on the 22nd October. Sadly, age and ill health preclude many of our Members attending, but we are still getting around 25 to 30% attendance rate. At our October Meeting, a positive and productive one, discussion on the 2020 Congress resulted in several members making plans for England. Our Members who attended the World Congress in Nelson expressed their delight in meeting so many 'Overseas' visitors, and now have a better understanding of IGLD and the problems we face. As I have stated before, the renewal of old friendships, the making of new ones, and the sharing of ideas is the key to success.

Following our Ritual Meeting on October 22nd, Members of Maitai Lodge joined IGLD for a BBQ meal and Social evening, with much fun had by all. On the Sunday we travelled to Lake Rotoiti for a picnic lunch, on to the Historic Tophouse Hotel for a 'Devonshire Tea' or a beer, and back to the Maitai Lodge Rooms for a 'Fish and Chips' tea and more socialising. The old Tophouse Hotel was built in the 1850's as a stopover for Drivers driving large flocks of sheep and herds of cattle from the Nelson region into Marlborough and down into Canterbury.

The small building on the right of the picture is the BAR. I have fond memories of this place from days long ago.

The Officers and Members of IGLD NZ wish you all a very merry Christmas with Family and friends, and a prosperous New Year.

Our regards to you all in Unity, Peace and Concord.

Bro. Bob Stewart, PGP, Secretary of IGLDNZ.

Sis. June Stewart, VP.

2016 was a year when we in the U K had to get down to the serious business of trying to recruit more Brothers and it has been an uphill struggle but one of our Grand Lodges is having a great deal of success but most of them are from another Order but they are proving to be good Brothers.

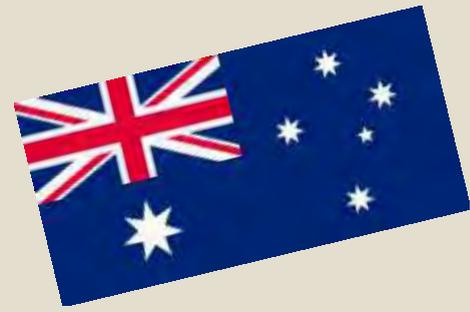

The World Congress in New Zealand was only attended by two of us but we did enjoy it especially the social side, the business side we think could have been better but without more delegates us small minnows do not have much power.

As most of you know we were asked to host the 2020 Congress and we were happy to do this, which will be in Ashford Kent an easy access from London airports and Eurostar. When final arrangements have been made, we will send out a circular with booking details.

We have just had an I G L D (UK) meeting and changed Officers for the next four years, we have also decided to increase the number of meetings to three for 2017 in the hope of getting some new Brothers as we lost two of our most Senior Brothers in September and they will be sadly missed.

Barry Wood and David Smisson preparing the WC in 2020.

Druids in Australia are currently only meeting in Western Australia where we have an all male lodge and a dual lodge meeting on alternative Thursday nights. Over the the last year we have been busy cleaning up and renovating an old historic hall to hold meetings in, as our Druids Building had to be sold as it was part of the Funeral Fund. This is an ongoing project with a new kitchen being built to replace the previous one.

IGLD still operates in Victoria, South Australia and in Western Australia, but only holds meetings in Western Australia where 10 members hold 4 meetings a year in the Masonic Lodge rooms.

We are holding Office bearers elections on the 25th November 2016 . Our Officers serve a two year term.

IGLD in Australia used to hold a Congress within Australia/New Zealand every 2 years with the different States taking turns to organize their Congress. Unfortunately the last of this was held in Mandurah, Western Australia in March 2013 and it is hoped that we can have another in the near future, taking into account that a lot of the members in the Eastern States are now restricted in travelling, so we will have to hold it in a location suitable for them.

Some IGLD members attended the World Congress in Nelson and have already started saving for England in 2020 and are trying to encourage others to attend.

We are looking forward to the outcomes of the special committee set up to review the IGLD to modernise it and attract new members to join and stay involved.

Have you ever heard about “ The Golf Championship for Druids” ? And it is not only for fun...

In August 2016 a great number of golfing Druids, and a few others, gathered to start the event of the year,- the Golf Championship for Druids in Västerås. This is a beautiful field and a perfect location for such an event. Of course, the golfing is only for fun but another effect of the championship has been an idea among our Swedish Brothers for a while. They wanted to use the event to collect money for the prostate cancer research, which is a focus area in Sweden as well as other countries. This was the idea behind the tournament and one had great hopes both to raise some money but also to increase the focus on this important research.

On the morning of August 26th one could see the rain had left the area, the fog was about to clear up and the expectations for a great tournament was filling the air. 45 golfers was ready to compete for the trophy of the year and the sun did its best to bring the temperature well above 30 deg. It was of course not possible to find all golf balls but that is also a part of the game. Smiles, laughter and cheerful comments was creating a fantastic atmosphere and all involved had a memorable day. There was a separate championship for Lodge teams where Lodge Idris was the winning team. In the ladies championship Ulrika Lagerstedt became “ the Queen”. The male Master of the 2016 Swedish Golf Champion for Druids was Brother Greger Axelsson from Lodge Grannos.

At the end of the day the organizers could inform all participants that a nice sum of money was raised for the prostate cancer research and would be sent via F.G.D.O shortly after. When we all know that this kind of research will benefit the researchers in many countries it tells us all to keep this in focus and to copy any good idea that will benefit into this important research.

Thanks a lot to our Brothers in Sweden and good luck with the Championship in July 2017.

SGLD meeting i Malmö

During the last weekend in September when the last breeze of summer was about to sweep our cheek the IGLD/SGLD meeting for 2016 took place in lovely city of Malmö the far south part of Sweden.

President of SGLD Br. Geir E. Tofsrud, aslo RSEE in F.G.D.O Norway during his speech.

The meeting went on in a brotherly atmosphere with a perfect mix of seriousness and cheerfulness – and of course a selection of nice food. Thanks to the organizers for a fruitful meeting in Unity, Peace and Concord.

German and Swiss Druids on biker tour

The second weekend in June 2016 some Druid brothers with female guidance from both DDO (Germany) and SDO (Switzerland) gathered for the fourth motorbike meet in Fichtelgebirge,- the Druid biker event of the year. As all bikers know the tour itself is often an even greater goal than to get to the endpoint and this year the organizing team with br. Heiko Jänsch had planned an interesting tour. But there was stronger forces than motorbikes that was going to change their plans.....

After a cheerful meetup on Friday the team was ready Saturday morning for the great tour. The plan was to set course for French Switzerland but due to a heavy rain front and bad forecast decision was made to go sightseeing to Bayreuth and turn back to the hotel in Bischofsgrün in the evening. As mentioned,- for bikers the tour and the smiles among the bikers is even more important than always stick to plans. No one can change the weather but unfulfilled plans will be saved for later.

After returned to the hotel all participants exchanged the experiences of the day, both from the stop in Ochsenkopf, or in Waldassen with the beautiful Basilika and the old and unique monastery library. Likewise was also the stop at the Trinity Church in Kappl an highlight of the day with its beautiful location, the many spiers and its fabulous indoor decoration, one of the most impressive church buildings in Germany.

Sunday morning, after a nice and common breakfast all participants set course for home, full of new memories and with another nice Biker-weekend for Druids to remember but before ignition keys was turned the meeting for 2017 was agreed.

“Auf Wiedersehen” in 2017.

Advance notice of a special weekend for Druids in Germany.

For all Druids there is always good news to hear that our Brotherhood is growing, that our Druid oak is getting stronger. In Gros-Lodge Baden-Württemberg in county Wetterauskreis north of Frankfurt one is now preparing for a very special weekend in April 2017. A new Lodge will be installed on Saturday 29th and the following day, Sunday, the national IGLD meeting with optak will take place.

Lodge Zu den Quellen will be founded in the city Bad Vilbel which has a aprox 33.000 residents. This region is well know for its more than 20 mineral springs of high quality. This is partly the reason behind the name of the new lodge, "Zu den Quellen" which in English means "to the source".

Bad Vilbel is the biggest city in the region and is easy accessed both by car and public transport so no excuse not to plan a nice April weekend in Bad Vilbel as this history of this city goes back all the way to 12.Century.

The weekend program starts on Friday 28th April with an informal and flexible evening after the individual arrival. On Saturday at 11.00 the program for the Druid Brothers starts but with an additional program for the ladies. All transport is planned with coaches and in the evening there will be a common buffet with entertainment in "Kurhaus Bad Vilbel".

Sunday the 30th April the National IGLD meeting will take place, hosted by the German President of DDO, Br. Frank Graffenberger. As a part of this meeting new IGLD Brothers will be welcomed to our World Wide Fellowship.

All in all this is going to be a busy but memorable weekend for the DDO and for the new Lodge Zu den Quellen. Our best wishes for the planning and the weekend in April 2017.

Lodge Avalon, family-day in open air.

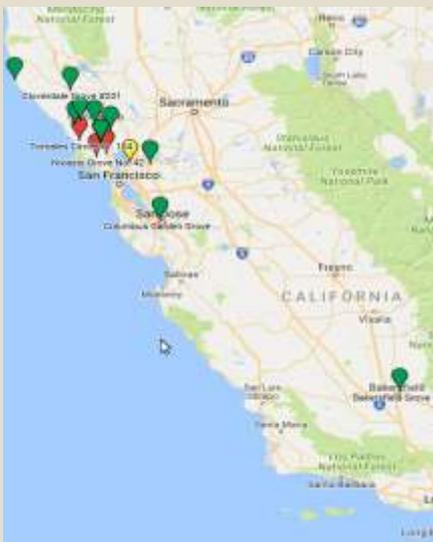

It is a nice summer day, medio June 2016 when Brothers of Lodge Avalon is celebrating the arriving summer together with their wives, children and grandchildren. This is a nice tradition which this year took place in the canals around Fredriksberg Garden with boats powered both by "manpower" and motor. In the lovely sunny day all participants joined a common outdoor lunch with proper liquid and all brothers could wish each other and their family a joyful and happy summer until they all meet again for the Autumn session.

Druids of California

Noble Grand Arch John Z Harris

The UAOD (United Ancient Order of Druids) of California is a non-political non-denominational fraternal benefit society. The California Druids were formed as a brotherhood united to assist the families of miners injured or killed in the gold fields of the Sierra Nevada. It spread statewide and became a booming organization. Over 200 local Groves have been chartered over the years and membership approached 15,000 in the early years of the 20th century. As with most fraternal organizations membership has dwindled over the last half century. The ritual and ceremonies were based loosely on ancient Druidic myths. Our mission is to promote knowledge, unity and peace. Currently there are 13 Groves (community lodges) plus the Grand Grove in California. The farthest south is Bakersfield and the farthest north is Point Arena. Each Grove normally meets one or two times per month to take care of business obligations and put on dinners or fundraisers. Statewide, the Druids sponsor a scholarship program giving out $20,000 a year. Local community involvement varies depending on local Grove abilities and community needs. In California the Druidic family is composed of three separate bodies: Groves, being the Brotherhood, Circles, known as the Sisterhood, and the Chapters, known as the Fun Branch. A member of the brotherhood branch can in due time join the sisterhood. However, a member of the sisterhood cannot join the brotherhood branch. Both members of the brotherhood and the sisterhood are eligible to join the Chapter branch. All three branches of the Druidic Fraternity claim a root in antiquity and each branch has its own moral precepts. The term "Grove" derives from the oak groves in which the original Druids reputedly met. In these forest grove edifices in which they kindled their alter fires, the tops were never covered and the Ancient Druids used the sky or heaven as their roof. The state lodge is called a Grand Grove, Interestingly, the term Grove is not used outside the United States: Foreign countries refer to their local organizations as "Lodges". The guiding virtues of the Grove are Justice, Morality, and Brotherly Love. The motto of the Druids the world over is "United to Assist" (Integritas Pro Rupe Nobis). The aim of the Druids is Unity, Peace and Concord. The motto of the Chapter is Equity, Integrity, and Obedience. The guiding virtues of the Circle Branch are the Seven Star Points: Honor, Truth, Justice, Faith, Hope, Love, and Benevolence. The principles of virtue of the Chapter Branch are Equity, Integrity, and Obedience. In addition to our mottos the California druids place belief in the seven precepts of Merlin, one of Druidism's early teachers.

Lodge Pythagoras has established new friends in Berlin.

For several years Lodge Pythagoras in Oslo had a wish to establish friendship with a German lodge and in 2015 the plans was put into action when brother Rolf Otto Strøm came in contact with Donna-Lodge zu den Sieben Stern in Berlin. Here EE br. Wolfgang Glauche could welcome the Norwegian visitors in December 2015. It is always exiting to establish such a friendship and on both sides one early discovered that the two lodges had a lot in common and the same foundation to develop. The visit to Berlin was a perfect start and on both sides a re-visit to Norway was in progress.

In May 2016 Lodge Pythagoras had the pleasure to welcome the German Brothers from Berlin and a special meeting was held to merge the two lodges in Oslo. As lode Pythagoras also has a German born brother the speech for the night was held in German. The following day all guests was on a sightseeing tour in Oslo which in good tradition ended in a common dinner in a restaurant at the seafront. The next visit from Berlin Brothers are already planned in August and the Norwegian Brother will be back in Berlin in December.

A strong friendship is now growing and this is a good example for other lodges : see to that plans are put into action as we have the same foundation in justice, benevolence and friendship.

Druids on river cruise in Germany.

The last days of May 2016 33 Druid brothers from all over Norway, some accompanied by their wives, left Norway for marvellous days in Saar, Mosel, Rhinen and Neckar. This was a river cruise and the days was just “drifting by” in an agreeable tempo. The lovely rivers and the area was showing its best weather and on-board guides could explain the historical side of each part. Castles, wine yards, local history – all was presented to us by on board guides while we could just enjoy it all in a perfect, slow mode. Some of the party knew the language, the German culture or the food from student days and for those it was a very much welcome rejuvenation. It is a completely different experience to see this from the boat deck compared to hurry on in a car.

Next year ?? Well,- plans are in progress for a cruise at Donau.... :-)

Lodge Eken in Norway and Lodge Sirius in Denmark – “still friends after all these years”.

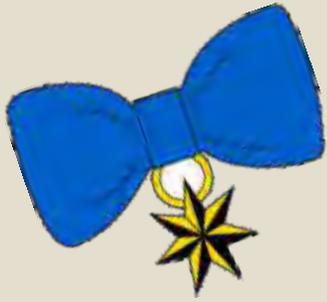

This strong friendship goes back a long time, all the way to 1994 when it all started. For 22 years the two lodges, Lodge Eken from Tønsberg Norway and Lodge Sirius situated in Horsens Denmark has been keeping up the common visit. By this, not only the brotherly friendship but also the private friendship has developed and being kept fresh and alive. In September 35 Druids from Norway left Norway heading for Horsens, Denmark and in good Druid tradition most of them was accommodated in private homes. This annual event is building unique relationship and is highly awaited on both sides.

The event is prepared both in Lodge Eken as well as in Lodge Sirius by a continuous working committee which has a lot to do. It is always “ just before the next visit. This kind of special relationship keeps the Druid motor going, gives new inspiration to both older Druids as well as new and young Druids. In between the official visits there is quite often private visits to and from both countries.

Above we see the joined Brothers relaxed conversations at Lodge Sirius in Denmark and we can all assume there will be a number of annual visits to come.

INTERNATIONAL DRUIDISM

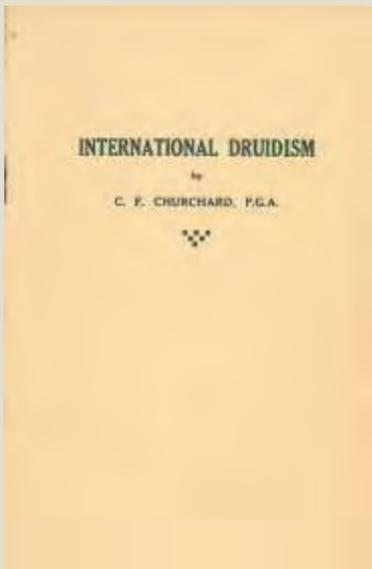

The first efforts to secure unity amongst the various sections of modern Druidism go back to the years 1857-8, when Grand Secretary Hart, of the American Order, approached the English Orders to join in what was then termed an amalgamation of all Druidical Societies throughout the world. "The Ancient Order of Druids and the United Ancient Order of Druids gave the movement their support, but the Manchester Order set forth conditions which it was impossible for the Ancient Order of Druids to accept, and the scheme was ultimately abandoned. In 1861 an unsuccessful effort was made to bring about the re-union of the A.O.D. with the English U.A.O.D., but it was left to the German leader of Druidism (Bro. H. Fricke) to weld the various links together. In 1906 a conference of representatives of the English U.A.O.D. and the German Order was held at Hull, and, as a result, the first meeting of an International Grand Lodge was held at Munich in 1908, and was attended by a representative of the American Order, in addition to the English U.A.O.D. and the German Order. At that meeting invitations were extended to all known Druidic Orders to take part in a future International Congress. In response to the invitation of the German Order, the A.O.D. sent as representatives to Germany, in July, 1909, for the purpose of studying the principles and working of the Order, Bros. C. W. G. Green, J. A. Miles, C. Beale, J. Tindall and A. Pappacena. Communications were also entered into with the Australian Order, and Bro. H. Alexander held several conferences in England with the A.O.D. and the U.A.O.D.

The representatives of the A.O.D. received a very hearty welcome from the German Order, and formed a very favourable impression.

As a result, for the second time, a representative gathering of delegates of the Druidic Orders of the world was held in London on 29th July, 1913, under the presidency of Bro. F. Askew (English U.A.O.D.), with Bro. H. Fricke (German Order) as vice-president. At this Conference there were present representatives of :-

1. The Ancient Order of Druids.
2. The United Ancient Order of U.S.A.
3. The Order of Druids.
4. The United Ancient Order of Germany.
5. The United Ancient Order of Australasia.
6. The United Ancient Order of Great Britain.

It was a matter for rejoicing that this interesting occasion should mark the re-union with the veteran Ancient Order in London - for 50 long the seat of their government, and the birthplace of modern Druidism.

The objects of this International Congress were:-

1. To bring into closer union all Druids of the world without distinction of religion, rank or riches, language or nationality.

2. To promote methods of securing financial aid to members and their dependants, in furtherance of the financial arrangements of each National Order.

3. To promote International Peace and fraternal goodwill.

4 . To co-operate for the extension of Druidism into countries where no Lodges exist.

5. To establish a fraternal recognition by an International Password, whereby a Druid migrating from one country to another may obtain a brotherly welcome.

Thus was brought into being a real Brotherhood-each Order esteeming, respecting, admiring and encouraging the other; without jealousies, rivalries or prejudices; hut representative of a large social and economic movement, whose foundations are deeply and firmly laid in the enduring principles of International peace, goodwill and wise understanding.

Then came tragic interruption of International Druidism just as the aspirations of the founders of the movement seemed to be realised. War among the nations severed communications between the various Orders, and no further meeting was held until 1923.

Taking care of our IGLD History

Finn Egil Johannessen

On the top floor of the Norwegian Order House you will find "The Historical Collections", and Honorary Druid Finn Egil Johannessen that for many years has collected and filed druidic history. IGLD has its own collection, and a lot has been attended to. To ensure that this material is available to all member countries, the Norwegian Druidorder in cooperation with the Orders in Sweden and Denmark, has assumed responsibility for taking care of IGLD material. Much is already scanned, and will gradually become available electronically.

Dear Brothers of IGLD

.The IGLD Lodges are based on idealism, social mutual solidarity and welfare – mostly introverted but to a certain extent even aid to for instance hospitals, etc., and is a worldwide organisation.

The social activity in the lodge is essential – maybe the most important, but to gain our aim Unity – Peace – Concord we need the idealistic part expressed through our rituals and what we call Druidism.

But what is Druidism? That will depend on who you ask as the experience will be individual, but some general definitions may be attended as self-knowledge, loyalty, charity and tolerance and we work hard to improve as human being and thereby influence our surroundings.

Our Druid Order was founded as a result of missing thrust and peace and lack of welfare which was found in the lodges. We therefore have a long tradition in thrust and peaceful friendship between brothers. Even today these factors are important, maybe even more as the world we are a part of has changed dramatically during the last few years and people are killing each other as before, and some philosophers claims that our soul is about to be lost against even more secularization and materialism. The soul has therefore lost much of its traditional meaning and importance, and is pressed by new ideas as psycho, crossing expectations, personal problems, internet and so called social medias. Our exterior – body - is more important and interesting than how we are mentally, and we do not have time to dive deep in the mind to find our soul. We are as Druids working to compensate this trend and work for balance and harmony.

Reidar Bratli

We are regularly reminded to discharge virtue – and you find peace. Seven is a figure that have a special meaning for Druids as well as for Christians and the seven cardinal virtues are believe, hope, love (piatia-elpis-agape), moderation, wisdom, courage and justice and of these the most important is love. To this we can add self- knowledge – Sokrates' rule no. 1.

Druidism is a global «movement» we all should beware and develop and it is expected that we do our best to expand and keep a high level of quality and thereby secure that our lodges are important factors even in the future.

To adjust our organization to the future is essential and education of the members will be even more important. Knowledge is the key – knowledge is power!
